Dear .....:.:.:.....

I am interested in working for your company.
I have worked in different positions at various companies and believe that I could join your team, contributing my knowledge and work ethic.
My career path has provided me with many experiences that have contributed to my growth and versatility.

As an English language and art assistant in both primary and secondary schools, I have developed strong communication and improvisation skills, which have allowed me to support my students and engage them in their learning.
I have also worked as an activities coordinator, care assistant, and support manager for adults with autism, which has increased my empathy and patience and allowed me to create environments where these individuals can thrive.
Similarly, while caring for babies, pets, and homes, I perfected my sense of responsibility and attention to detail, ensuring the well-being of my clients and their belongings.

In another field, I have also performed more technical and mechanical work, such as forklift driver, machine operator, and food safety manager, which instilled in me a strong commitment to safety, efficiency, and quality standards in operational environments.
In addition, I have collaborated on construction projects, home maintenance, and gardening, as well as minor boat and car repairs.
These experiences instilled in me a passion for problem solving and a practical approach to tackling challenges, whether under noisy, dusty, and dirty machinery or in the tranquility of a garden.

Outside of traditional work environments, my activities in music and stage production have cultivated my creativity, adaptability, and teamwork skills.
These experiences have taught me the value of collaboration and effective communication in dynamic and high-stress situations.

I am currently studying Spanish and Galician and I am eager to continue living in Spain for many years, for which I need a new job.
I would be thrilled with the possibility of joining your team and giving it my all.

Best regards,
Bernard Taylor
